MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE,

NOVEMBER, 1821.

The following statement is published, for the purpose of communicating information to the parents, guardians, and instructors of those youth, who are pursuing studies, preparatory for admission into this College.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

To be admitted to the Freshman class, the candidate must be thoroughly acquainted with the grammar of the Latin and Greek languages, and be able to construe and parse any portion of the following books; viz. Virgil, the Greek Testament, Cicero's Select Orations, and Dalzel's Collectanea, Græca Minora. He must likewise be able to translate English into Latin correctly, and possess a knowledge of arithmetick, including Vulgar and Decimal Fractions, with the doctrine of Roots and Powers.

N. B. The time appointed for examination, is the day preceding the annual Commencement. Applicants from a distance, however, may be examined at the close of the ensuing vacation.

For admission to an advanced standing, the candidate, in addition to the requisites for the Freshman class, must be acquainted with the studies pursued by the class, which he wishes to join.

It is desirable that those youth, who are studying with a view to enter this college, should use the particular books here prescribed. In extraordinary cases, however, an equivalent knowledge of other approved classicks will be admitted as a substitute for partial deficiencies.

No scholar from another college can be admitted without examination; nor can any such applicant be admitted to examination, without producing from the presiding officer, a certificate of his good standing and regular dismission.

N. B. In all cases, a bond, for the payment of the college bills, is required.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION AND STUDY.

FOR THE FRESHMEN.

First Term.—Sallust, Cicero de Officiis, and Murray's English Grammar; with a review of Græca Minora and Pike's Arithmetick.

Second Term.—Cicero de Amicitia and Senectute, Blair's Lectures Abridged, and the first five books of Livy.

Third Term.—Dalzel's Collectanea Græca Majora, and Priestley's Lectures; with a review of preceding studies.

Through the Year.—A portion of the Greek Testament, on Monday morning; written translations from Latin or Greek into English, or from English into Latin, once in two weeks; and declamations, once in two weeks.

SOPHOMORES.

First Term.—Horace, Morse's Geography, and Day's Algebra.

Second Term.—Algebra concluded, Playfair's Euclid, and Græca Majora continued.

Third Term. -Græca Majora continued through the first volume; Day's Trigonometry, Mensuration of Superficies and Solids, and of Heights and Distances; with a review of preceding studies.

Through the Year.—A portion of the Greek Testament on Monday morning; written translations from the Latin and Greek classicks, English compositions and declamations; a private lecture each week, from the Professor of Languages.

JUNIORS.

First Term.—Cicero de Oratore; Græca Majora, second volume; Spherical Trigonometry, Conick Sections, and Enfield's Natural Philosophy.

Second Term.—Cicero de Oratore concluded, Græca Majora continued, Enfield's Natural Philosophy concluded, and Dey's Surveying and Navigation.

Third Term.—Græca Majora concluded, Enfield's Astronomy, and Paley's Natural Theology, with a review of preceding studies.

Through the Year.—Frequent exercises in composition, forensick discussion and declamation, two private lectures each week, from the Professor of Languages.

SENIORS.

First Term.—Blair's Lectures, Hedge's Logick, Paley's Moral Philosophy, and Vattel's Law of Nations.

Second Term.—Locke on the Human Understanding, and Stewart's Elements of the Philosophy of the Human Mind.

Third Term.—Butler's Analogy, and Paley's View of the Evidences of Christianity, with a review of preceding studies,

Through the Year.—On Monday morning, a portion of the Greek Testament; declamations once in two weeks; themes and written forensicks alternately, once in two weeks; the Hebrew and German Languages, to such members of the class, as wish to obtain a knowledge of them.

N. B. In addition to the exercises in elocution before the respective instructors of each class, all the undergraduates in succession (eight each week) declaim before the whole College, after evening prayers; and twelve (four from each of the three lower classes) speak on every Wednesday afternoon.

LECTURES.

On Experimental Philosophy, for the Senior and Junior classes.

On Natural and Revealed Religion, for all the classes.

On Chemistry, (a course once in two years) for the Senior and Junior classes.

On Mineralogy (a course of private lectures once in two years).

On Philology, for the Senior and Junior classes.

EXAMINATIONS.—All the classes are carefully examined twice a year, before the whole Faculty, a committee of the Corporation, and such other literary gentlemen as are disposed to attend.

EXHIBITIONS.—One for the Sophomore class, on the day preceding the spring vacation; one for the Junior class, on the first Wednesday in December ; and one for the Senior class, on the evening of the same day.

VACATIONS.—The first, four weeks from Commencement ; the second, seven weeks from the first Wednesday in January ; the third, two weeks from the third Wednesday in May.

COMMENCEMENT, on the third Wednesday in August.

ANNUAL EXPENCES.

Tuition, $5 per quarter,	$20
Room rent, $1.50	6
Repairs and other incidental charges, (about $1.50)	6
	$32

As the students board in private families, the price of board is not uniform. The highest price, at present, is $1.50 per week, amounting, for the 39 weeks of term time, to $ 58 50.

To prevent unnecessary expenses, as well as for other important purposes, it is recommended, that every student from a distance, especially if young, should be placed under the particular patronage of some gentleman in Middlebury, who will attend to his expenditures.
